Holly Penfield launches her new single 'Diggin' It'

San Franciscan singer songwriter Holly Penfield releases her single 'Diggin' It' off her new album 'Tree Woman'. The new album follows her worldwide, billboard charting debut album 'Full Grown Child,' which she recorded in Los Angeles with renowned record producers Mike Chapman and Nicky Chinn (Blondie, Suzi Quatro, Sweet, The Knack).

Holly says:

“ I wrote Diggin It so I would sing over and over again a more positive affirmation in my life. Many singer songwriters traditionally write sadder songs that are brought about by their Heartaches in life. I know because written many of them myself. This was written in the highlands of Scotland walking in nature on a summer day playing my guitar and really digging a grove I found which was so much fun to sing and and make up melodies and lyrics to. It's my favorite on the record besides Rose and a Rope.”

'Diggin' It' is released and available to stream on all the major digital music distribution platforms.
